SHOWCASE

This work was a way to show some tools and skills i learned. The first one is a custom HTML5 video player implemented with javascript and css, then we have a HTML5 audio tag synced with the lyrics of the song thats playing. There's also google api to get the location we are currently on, and i finished it with a three.js moving rhombus.

PHP CALENDAR

This interactive calendar is an example of php development. Through my own reaser-arch, I was able to accomplish this task by creating html elements with php according to the number of days of a specific month.

The style was also a challenge. It was done using css, and css media queries for the mobile version.

CMS

On this content management system assignment, I decided to create a total new design. After sketching up the pages layout, I started to design the site in photoshop.

When mockups were done, the development process started. First the HTML followed by the CSS, some PHP to make the site dynamic, and finally the databases and MySQL using phpmyadmin.

CARING REHAB

My very first web design mockup and how i enter into the design field.

Caring rehab is my phisio therapy clinic i wanted to redesign its website. And so, I made it simple and easy to navigate keeping the brand colors from the logo and a simple design to enhance its content.

LEGAL FIRM

This is my first freelance work.

I had the opportunity to do a whole campaign with this company. First the Competitive Audit to their competition, then some user inside, design elements from the competitors and useful user experience implementation. The final process with moodboards, style guides, sketches, wireframes, mock-ups, development and site testing.

DANCE STUDIO

Sambaheat dance studio approached me to completely redesign their website.

They wanted a classy look and to include pictures of their dancers on the website.

I placed the pictures as part of the background and one color on the pictures to fill the rest of the background.
